The Pendleton County Sheriff's Office will be having a fundraiser at Edwardo's Pizza and Sub in Falmouth from 5-8 p.m. on Wednesday, December 4.

The Sheriff's office will be receiving a percentage of the buffet and tips that night. All proceeds that are raised will go directly to the "Shop With A Cop" program. This is a program that the Pendleton County Sheriff's Office has each year for the less fortunate children in our county. Each child is given so much money and they get to go shopping with a law enforcement officer.

Santa will visit the restaurant at 6 p.m. Bring your camera and take pictures of your child with Santa.

White Christmas December 8

The White Christmas program was started in the early 1900s by the Falmouth Women's Club. The purpose was to help families in the community during the holiday season. In 2012 the Falmouth Rotary Club decided to continue this tradition.

The community is invited to come together again at 7 p.m. on Sunday evening, December 8. The service will involve area choirs and participation from local churches.

Don't miss this! Time and date again are 7 p.m., December 8 at Falmouth Baptist Church.

Falmouth residents enjoy "Home for the Holidays"

The "Home for the Holidays" Christmas celebration was held in the city of Falmouth on Saturday, November 30. A whole day of festive, holiday fun was had by all who came out to enjoy the activities scheduled. There was a pancake breakfast, the placing of the veterans memorial wreath, the lighting of the Christmas tree in the courthouse square, Santa arrived by sled in the parade as pictured above with Mrs. Claus. Later the children had their time with old Santa. There were prize giveaways, songs and prayer, and a pizza and soup dinner with live entertainment provided by Dr. Mike Schafer and his band. Children sit on Santa's lap

"Jolly old St. Nicholas, lean your ear this way, don't you tell a single soul what I'm going to say."

Little Hunter DeBruler, 4, didn't sing the song to Santa but he told him what he wanted for Christmas and then gave him a big old grin.

Hunter is the son of Marvin DeBruler and Christina Florence.

Bluegrass Pipeline surveyed at Kincaid without permission

In response to the concern of local leaders and citizens of Pendleton County over the Bluegrass Pipeline Project, a public forum was held on November 18 in the Falmouth courthouse. Citizens who wanted to ask questions were placed on an agenda and given the opportunity to address a Bluegrass Pipeline team.

One such citizen was Jim Lockwood, who stated that he had internal emails from the Kentucky Parks Department showing that Bluegrass Pipeline had surveyed Kincaid Lake State Park property without permission.

Williams' Director of Right of Way and Permitting Jim Curry responded that permission had been granted by the state. Williams Company and Boardwalk are partners in the Bluegrass Pipeline.

Lockwood countered that it had, but only after the fact. He asked for an apology. Curry told Lockwood Bluegrass had followed the correct procedure.

River Valley Nursing Home wins centerpiece award

By Roger McKinney, Reporter

At a conference of the Kentucky Association of Health Care Facilities, that was conducted in mid-November at the Galt House in Louisville, the River Valley Nursing Home of Butler was awarded first place in a state wide centerpiece competition. The theme was nautical in nature and symbolized a light or beacon cast for quality.

River Valley Activity Director Robin Mulloy and the staff of the nursing home worked with Phillip A. Sharp Middle School Visual Arts Instructor Lauren Elliott and her art students to create a beautiful lighthouse of paper and plaster. Four talented middle school art students sculpted the lighthouse and staff members of the River Valley Nursing Home painted the structure and applied the finishing touches.

River Valley Activity Director Robin Mulloy said that the project was an example of how River Valley practiced outreach in the community.

OPINION

Back Yonder By Marvin Sullivan

"Dangers"

Man has been fascinated with danger since the beginning of time. This trait is displayed in the lives of humans every day. Why else would man strive to go 300 miles per hour in a vehicle, climb a high mountain, fight lions and tigers, charm poisonous snakes, be awed by shocking rides at theme parks, swim in shark infested waters and risk losing his happy home by cheating on his wife?

The Plain's Indians added thrill to their war strategy with the enemy by seeing how close they could get to the opposition without being hurt or killed.

One wonders why young men of today risk all kinds of dangerous forms of training to become Navy SEALs, Green Berets or even being challenged by riding broncos and mean bulls at rodeos.

Most folks would not agree, but I think the most dangerous act in life is being responsible for the conception of a new human being. This involvement is one of the most dangerous acts one can perform, but if planned can be one of the most rewarding.

If one really considered the importance of starting a new life that once created lasts for eternity, he might hesitate.

When each of us was begun, our parents were not thinking of creating a baby. They were primarily overtaken with the joy of fulfilling the pleasure of the sexual drive.

It does not require much intelligence for an individual to begin the process of producing a child. The animal desire kicks in and there is no thought about danger or responsibility. If the sex act was less exciting and pleasant, the overpopulation problems would soon be solved.

The big tragedy in our society is the large percentage of people who breed and have children have no thought or care for the responsibility that follows. When the children show up, the parents avoid the scene and expect the government to take care of the children they sired. They seek to find another person to mate with to have more children.

I don't know too much about 'HELL,' but one thing I believe is that anyone who mistreats or abuses a child or an animal will have a special reservation.

Back in the late 1800s, it was not uncommon for families to have 10 or 12 kids. My dad had 11 brothers and sisters. There were at least two reasons why they had so many children. They needed workers; and they had no idea of what family planning meant.

When I was driving a milk truck picking up milk from farms, I met a farmer who left a lasting impression on me. The impression was not a good one!

One morning when I was picking up his milk, we engaged in a conversation. I asked him how many kids he had. He returned with "I have a boy and girl at home, but when I was in the Army, I don't know how many I was responsible for." For some reason, I never had any respect for him after that. I thought "How could anyone be so insensitive about a life!"

I was talking to an old gentleman several years ago and he informed me that he had 10 children. I responded with, "Wow! Why did you have so many kids?"

He came back with, "Really, the wife and I didn't plan them. We lived near a railroad track. I had to leave for work at 6 a.m. The morning train came by our house at 5 a.m., blowing the whistle, making noise and would wake us up!" He continued, "It was too early to get up and we didn't have enough time to go back to sleep!"

prevent the most liberal political interests in America from stopping our country from being independent from the Middle East oil. It's pretty simple. If you have liberal views on energy, go ahead and be mad about the pipeline, coal mines and all the other domestic energy source. But if you think we're on the wrong track when it comes to energy, then you should support the various pipelines and domestic energy sources we have right here.

Landowner's take on eminent domain

Dead Editor,

I understand why people are upset about eminent domain. I am just as protective of individual property rights as the next person. I agree that abusing the use of eminent domain is a bad idea. But, any issue concerning eminent domain will be handled in the courts and will be between individual land owner and The Bluegrass Pipeline. But it shouldn't come to that because they have promised to only use eminent domain as a last resort option if they can't reach a purchase agreement for an easement.

As far as I can tell from what they're paying, landowners would be foolish not to accept their offer.

Everything I've heard about the Bluegrass Pipeline seems like a good idea. We should not let fears about eminent domain distract us from the fact that this project would bring over $136 million in tax revenue over the next 10 years to our local communities, over 1,500 construction jobs to Kentuckians and $50 million in payments to individual land owners. Let us use these benefits to our advantage and

"Let us tenderly and kindly cherish, therefore, the means of knowledge. Let us dare to read, think, speak, and write." ~John Adams

Kentucky State Police offers winter driving tips

KSP is asking motorists to be aware that weather conditions may change rapidly over the four-day holiday.

KSP reports that slippery roads were the contributing factor in 12,034 crashes and 72 fatalities in 2012.

Here are a few simple steps to help keep you on the road and less stressed:

- Avoid travel unless necessary when winter weather is in your area.
- Slow down.
- Always wear your seat belt.
- Driving Considerations
- Leave early - allow more travel time; expect delays.
- Increase distance between vehicles - it takes significantly longer to stop on snow covered or icy roadways.
- Clear all windows on your vehicle prior to travel - having unobstructed vision is vital to avoid running off of the road or having a collision.

- Turn on your vehicle's headlamps. Remove any dirt, mud or snow.
- Use caution on bridges and overpasses as they are susceptible to freezing before roadways.
- Avoid using cruise control - cruise can cause the vehicle's wheels to continue turning on a slippery surface when speed needs to be decreased.

Be Prepared

- Ensure your vehicle has a full tank of gas in the event you are stranded for an extended period of time.
- Charge your cellular phone prior to departure. Take a blanket.
- Notify a family member or a friend of your travel plans prior to departure - if you travel is interrupted, someone will know

Collision Information

- Be patient - bad weather also limits the capabilities of law enforcement officers and emergency crews and increases response time. Also, keep in mind that they will be experiencing a high volume of requests for service.
- Attempt to move your vehicle out of the roadway if you are involved in a minor, non-injury traffic collision; especially if you are in a dangerous area such as a curve or a blind hill.
- If your vehicle is stranded or wrecked but not in the roadway, attempts to recover your vehicle will have to wait until conditions improve for safety considerations.

Oakland Christian presents a "Walk Through Bethlehem"

As a gift to the community, God's family at Oakland (in Pendleton County) is presenting their "Walk through Bethlehem" on December 7-8. Come and see the shops, the sounds and sights, the guards, the hustle and bustle of Bethlehem as it might have been at the time of Jesus' birth. Meet Mary and Joseph and the babe at the stable. See the royally robed Magi as they journey to find the baby. Your outdoor journey ends at the tomb where you'll meet Nicodemus and an angel as they proclaim the "reason for the season."

Come and see the true meaning of Christmas. Before your tour you will hear special singers inside the church. This is indeed a very special free event for all ages. Remember to dress warmly. Tours will be held 5:30-8:30 p.m. each evening. Refreshments are served. For more info or directions, just call 859-654-6174 or 859-797-3719.

Todd Schafer's Crooner Christmas

A wonderful way to get yourself in the spirit of Christmas would be by attending "A Crooner Christmas" VIII at the Alexandria Community Center from 3-5 p.m. on Sunday, December 15.

Todd Schafer, Jerry Moore, Todd Whitford and special guest will be performing Christmas songs and songs that were sung by your favorite crooners in years past.

From Sinatra to Crosby, from pop to country, plus a special group of Christmas gospel will be performed. Admission is free with a free will offering taken to help less fortunate individuals and families in the area.

Todd Schafer has strong ties to the community through his grandparents John and Nellie Keith, who were lifetime residents of Pendleton County. His parents, Lee and Joyce Schafer also grew up in Pendleton and Campbell counties until Todd was born and they moved to Louisville.

While growing up, Todd performed for many churches in the area as well as senior events. In the late 1970s he performed with Lawrence Welk on several occasions. He has also performed the national anthem for many major colleges including UK during the NCAA Regionals, U of L, Xavier, and opened UC at Shoemaker Arena now known as Fifth Third Arena.

For nearly a decade, Todd has lived with a 17 to 20% ejection-factor resulting from congestive heart failure/cardiomyopathy and atrial fib. God allows him to perform this program year after year.

Come hear your favorite Crooner tunes and get your Christmas spirit brightened with beautiful renditions of "Let it Snow" and "White Christmas" to "Your Cheatin' Heart" to "Release Me" to "Maria" to "Amazing Grace." There is sure to be something for everyone!

KSP launches 'Operation Holiday Lights'

The Kentucky State Police (KSP) have launched a nighttime holiday enforcement campaign designed to reduce traffic fatalities on Kentucky roadways. 'Operation Holiday Lights: All Night. Every Night.' Will extend through January 1, 2014 at midnight.

KSP spokesman Sgt. Michael Webb says the statewide enforcement effort will utilize collision analysis data to determine which counties have the highest instance of injury and fatal crashes.

"Each post has been asked to identify the counties in their patrol area where crashes are prevalent," says Webb. "Specifically, they are looking at the time and exact location of those crashes and scheduling heavier patrols for those areas."

Webb says crash data indicates that a majority of the fatal crashes involve unrestrained drivers.

"Last year, nearly 53 percent of drivers who were killed in traffic crashes on Kentucky roadways were not wearing seat belts. We can't stress enough, the importance of wearing a seat belt. Our goal is to make sure everyone arrives home safely for the holidays."

All KSP posts and commercial vehicle regions will utilize traffic safety check points, covert details in high traffic areas and night vision equipment to assist in the campaign.

"Our focus during these safety check points will be seat belt usage with an added emphasis on the use of proper child seat restraints. Often times, we find other unsafe driving behavior during these details, such as impaired driving and distracted driving."

As of this time last year, Kentucky has 95 fewer highway fatalities compared to the same reporting period in 2012.

"It is a credit to motorists who have made wise choices when driving by wearing seat belts, slowing down and refraining from distractions when behind the wheel," says Webb. "Ideally we would like to report 'zero deaths' on Kentucky roadways."

The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA) says that nighttime drivers are less likely to buckle up than daytime drivers.

Six new troopers assigned to KSP Post 6

Kentucky State Police Post 6 welcomed six new troopers to the post district. The new troopers are part of the agency's 91st cadet class. They started a 23-week training cycle on June 9, 2013 in a class that consisted of 87 cadets. Twenty-five resigned during the weeks of mental and physical challenges. Several members of the class earned special recognitions including valedictorian Corey Rich, of Williamstown, Ky. The training included more than 1,000 hours of classroom and field study in subjects such as constitutional law, juvenile and traffic law, use of force, weapons training, defensive tactics, first aid, high speed vehicle pursuit, criminal investigation, computer literacy, hostage negotiations, evidence collection, radio procedures, search and seizure, crash investigation, drug identification, traffic control, crowd control, armed robbery response, land navigation, electronic crimes, sex crimes, hate crimes, domestic violence, bomb threats and hazardous materials. The following is a list of the new troopers and their hometowns or residences: Troy A. Brooks, Dry Ridge, Ky.; Joseph F. Brown, Prospect, Ky.; Joshua L. Giles, Richmond, Ky.; Corey P. Rich, Williamstown, Ky.; Charles P. Wagner, Paris, Ky.; and Isaac J. Waters, Cincinnati, Ohio.

No increase in tax interest rate

The Kentucky Department of Revenue has set the 2014 tax interest rate, which remains unchanged from the previous two years. The interest rate is four percent; the rate charged by the Department on unpaid taxes is six percent; and for interest due on a refund, the rate is two percent.

Each year the Department of Revenue, pursuant to KRS 131.183, is required to review the annual tax rate and change or keep the same rate. The new interest rate is based on the adjusted prime rate charged by Kentucky banks during the month of October.

A recent survey of Kentucky banks revealed that the average prime interest rate was four percent during the month of October 2013. The interest rate is effective Jan. 1, 2014.

Bowen running for PVA

My name is Jeff Bowen and I am running for Pendleton County Property Valuation Administrator (PVA).

I am a lifelong resident of Pendleton County and a graduate of Pendleton Co. High School. I have spent the last eight years in insurance sales, serving Grant, Owen, Gallatin, and Pendleton counties. Prior to that, I worked in the mortgage industry for two years, retail sales for five years, and McDonald's Corporation for sixteen years. I was the store manager that opened the McDonald's in Falmouth and I was responsible for the McDonald's mobile unit that fed flood victims and volunteers for two weeks at the high school at no cost.

JEFF BOWEN

I look forward to serving the people of Pendleton County and want to thank you in advance for your support.

River Valley staff member receives scholarship

Jolynn Redden at River Valley Nursing Home in Butler received the 2013 Kentucky Health Care Foundation Scholarship at the Kentucky Association of Health Care Facilities (KAHCF) Annual Quality Awards Banquet on November 14. KAHCF, the trade association that represents proprietary and non-proprietary long term care facilities throughout the Commonwealth, presented over 40 awards at the banquet at the Galt House in Louisville. This award recognizes strong commitment to both the nursing home profession and providing quality care.

Administrator and KAHCF Chairman of the Board Ken Urlage said, "It is an honor to have Jolynn as part of our staff providing quality care every day. This recognition serves as a testament to her dedication to delivering that quality care to our residents."

"This is one way to recognize that effort. And while it is an important honor, it does not compare to the thanks she receives every day from residents and families."

BUTLER BAPTIST

I Corinthians 1:4-9 tells us why we can be thankful. We can be thankful for the grace of God. He gives us undeserved blessings everyday. We have God's spirit in our lives. This allows us to understand and speak God's Word. Through salvation we have the security of Jesus. Because of the cross we will stand before God and be blameless. God wants fellowship with us. If we have this we need nothing else.

BUTLER CHRISTIAN

Bro. Denny's sermon for November 24, was titled, "Thanksgiving Part Two Doors" Scripture Colossians 1:11-14. We all must go thru doors in our lives. Kings have been part of our childhood both fact and fiction. Remember Ol' King Cole and who can forget King Herod, king of the castle or king of the hill? The greatest king, Christ the King did not pattern his life after violence for his kingdom was not of this world. His kingdom is open to all, none are excluded.

During the morning worship service Sunday, the United Methodist Women were recognized and thanked. The lovely flowers on the altar were left for members from the funeral of our dear one, Lila Dicken.

CHAPEL OF PRAISE

Praise the Lord, God is moving at The Chapel. We invite you to come and visit us at The Chapel. Our church is growing and we want you to come and grow with us.

December is a busy and exciting month. Christmas will be here soon and let's not forget the real reason for the season. In Isaiah 9:6 tells us "For unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given: and government shall be upon his shoulder: and his name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, The Mighty God, the everlasting Father, The Prince of Peace." And we call Him Jesus. Have a blessed week.

FALMOUTH BAPTIST

Blessings from the Falmouth Baptist Church. If you're looking for a church home, we encourage you to stop by 4th and Maple and worship with us.

It's hard to believe that Christmas is just three weeks away. In all the hustle and bustle of the season, don't forget to keep Christ in CHRISTmas. He is the reason for the season!

The Thanksgiving message was taken from II Corinthians 9. We are reminded the gratitude breeds generosity and that our enthusiasm can spur others to action. We need to give of our time, talents, energy and gift generously, not grudgingly. If we sow sparingly, we reap sparingly. We need to sow generously so we can reap generously. God loves a cheerful giver!

Thanks to all who gave so generously to our Operation Christmas Child boxes for Samaritans Purse. Because of that generosity, many children around the world will know the love of Christ this Christmas.

FALMOUTH CHRISTIAN

Brother Nathan's message was from John 6:1-14, "Thanksgiving With Jesus."

Many people had realized there was something special about Jesus and had followed Him. Instead of walking away, He made sure they were fed and taught His disciples in the process. Jesus did not let circumstances stress Him. The crowd seemed to forget the miracles Jesus had already performed. Christianity is not a religion; it is a relationship. We must remember to focus on Jesus and His ability. With God we always have enough and can get more if we need it. He is the Great I Am. Thanksgiving is a spiritual tool. When done in sincerity it opens the gates of heaven and releases blessings. So start thanking God as Jesus did, even before you see what you need or ask for. This is proof of your faith and shows God you love and trust Him. Open your Bible, spend time reading the scripture, so you will know the Word.

Go with God and He will go with you!

FIRST BAPTIST

Blessings! Abram Crozier sang praises to God with special music, Sunday before Thanksgiving. Bro. Harry's message was taken from Psalms. During this season of thanks, everyone expresses what they are thankful for. We need to be thankful everyday for our blessings from God. We need to make a joyful noise unto the Lord all year long. We must shout to the world that we are Christians and spread His Word.

Congratulations to Aaron and Beth Crozier on the birth of their new daughter, Avia Joy!

Abram Crozier has taken over our youth group. Students, grades sixth thru twelfth are invited to his class at 10 a.m. on Sunday mornings.

"For it is You who blesses the righteous man, O Lord, You surround him with favor as with favor as with a shield."
~ Psalm 5:12

Our shut in for December is Mildred Dickison. River Valley Nursing Home, 305 Taylor St., Butler, KY 41006. Send her a card and brighten her day.

"Happiness depends upon ourselves."

HARVEST

Bro. Donnie's morning message was titled, "A Season of Thanksgiving - Part II." What we do for others demonstrates what we really think about Jesus' words to us - feed the hungry, give the homeless a place to stay, look after the sick. How well do your actions separate you from pretenders and unbelievers? We have no excuse to neglect those who have deep need; it is our responsibility to care for others.

December finds our youth very busy. They are planning an outing to the Cyclones game, attending the "Walk through Bethlehem," and a New Year's Eve lock-in. Preparations are being made for our Christmas Eve Candlelight service at 10 p.m.

Prayer concerns: Billy Pugh, Owen Collins, Baby Hartzel, Dennis Biddle, and the family of Bill Mosley.

Come be our guest at 111 E. Shelby Street, Sunday - 9:30 a.m. Bible study and 10:30 a.m. and 6 p.m. worship services.

MT. MORIAH

By the time you read this article Thanksgiving Day will be over. We hope everyone was blessed.

Bro. Breeden's sermon last Sunday was on the topic of "addictions." We all need to be addicted to the Word of God.

We are looking forward to our annual "hanging of the greens." In this service we decorate the poinsettia tree with live poinsettias in memory and in honor of our loved ones.

We ask special prayer for the Hartzel baby and the unborn twins of Charity and Marcus Oldendick. We also pray for the parents and grandparents of these children. Our prayer list includes Jackie Thomas, Brenda Thomas, Rosalee Lafollette, Tom Lafollette, Debbie and Danny Sharp, "Little Ellie," and Levi Wolfe. We pray for people who do not have a warm place to sleep or enough food to eat. We realize that these problems exist in our own country.

Serving communion to shut-ins in the month of December are Brent Moore and Jackie Thomas.

"A generous man will prosper; he who refreshes others will himself be refreshed." Proverbs 11:25

PLEASANT RIDGE

Happy Birthday Tori Moore and Tracy Gosney.

Thank you to all who took part in the Operation Christmas Child shoe box ministry. We had 61 boxes filled with love and gifts to touch the life of a child far away.

Bro. Rick's message was from Psalms 119:54. Your statues have been my songs in the house of my pilgrimage. We are so thankful for our families, Christian brothers and sisters, fellowship, homes, jobs, living in a free country, health, beauty of the creation and our most precious Lord and Savior.

What about the hard times? Loneliness, illness, bad decisions, death of a loved one. How can we be thankful going through the dark times. No matter what we are going through we should be thankful.

Gods Word says in all things give thanks. Teach me good judgment as well as knowledge. Give thanks to the one who gave it all.

Sunday evening Bible Study is in Genesis.

TURNER RIDGE

We met together in God's house for worship Sunday, November 24 - Give thanks. "...to God for His indescribable gift!" II Corinthians 9:15

The choir sang "Thank You, Jesus" and then Bro. Dale led the children's message "Don't Forget to Say Thank You" he told them the story of Jesus healing the 10 men with leprosy - but only one went to Jesus and said thank you.

Kenzie Gregg read scripture Psalms 95:1-3 and The Turner Ridge Bells played "Great is Thy Faithfulness." Bro. Dale's sermon "Thanksgiving to God" II Corinthians 9:10-12. God gave His son so we could meet today and worship - so stop the busy and give thanks for all you have!

"AlleyCats" fall short against Brossart

The Pendleton County bowling squads traveled to Alexandria's Southern Lanes to face Bishop Brossart last week. This was a makeup match from the prior week, as Pendleton County had "Meet the Team" duties.

The boy's match was a back and forth battle, right down to the final frames of the last game. In game one, Devon Boggs and Dalton Hill led the Cats, with scores of 170 and 156, respectively, as Pendleton took game 1, 453-418. In game two, Brossart battled back to tie the match at one game apiece. In the third game, Brandon Coffey became the first Pendleton County bowler to break the 200-pin plateau with a score of 202, and the Wildcats once again regained the lead with a school record 533 pins. Once again, Brossart came back to tie the match in the last of the team games. In the baker's games, Pendleton County would open game one strong and leave no doubt with three strikes in the first five frames and won with a school record score of 163-94. In the final baker's match, Brossart came back and won a close one, 154-128. Brossart was declared winner of the match by having the higher pin total for the match, with a final score of 4-3.

"I'm so proud of the guys," noted coach Gary Polley. "This is the best we've bowled all year, and things are really coming together for us."

In the girls match, the ladies dropped a close game one, 345-315, behind a season high 112 from Mckalla Thomas. Brossart then continued to sweep the team games, with similar scores. The baker's matches, were both very close, and came down to the final frame. In the first game it was back and forth the entire time, with Brossart coming through to win narrowly 100-99. In the second game, it was déjà vu. Autumn Payne closed the match with good marks in the 10th to give Pendleton the lead, but Bishop Brossart closed out with a strike to hold on for a 130-127 win.

"Everyone is improving, and the kids are really starting to get into it more," said Polley. "We're competing well with some really good teams, and that will help us down the road."

The next match is this Thursday, December 5 at SuperBowl in Erlanger. The Wildcats face Covington Catholic, while the LadyCats will face Notre Dame Academy.

Did you know assaulting an official/coach is a felony?

In Utah, a teen soccer player punches the official after a yellow card and the official slips into a coma and a week later dies. In New Jersey, a youth baseball coach pleaded guilty to third-degree assault after an attack on an umpire that left him with a fractured skull, extensive dental injuries and hearing loss. In Florida, a basketball player attacks a referee, picking him up and body slamming him to the ground. In Florida, a volleyball player spikes the ball into the face of an official who suffered serious injuries to her nose and jaw.

More and more, unfortunate episodes of attacks on officials by players, coaches and spectators are popping up across the country.

The state of Kentucky passed KRS 508.025 that makes it a Class D felony to intentionally cause or attempt to cause physical injury to a sports official either during or after an athletic event. Sports official is defined as a referee, umpire, linesperson, timekeeper, coach or any person who serves in a similar capacity.

Kentucky Section 1.KRS 508.025 reads: (c) intentionally causes or attempts to cause physical injury to a sports official: 1. Who was performing sports official duties at the time the physical injury or attempt to cause physical injury was perpetrated; or 2. After the sports official performs official duties at an athletic event, if the physical injury or attempt to cause physical injury occurs within the confines or the immediate vicinity of the athletic facility at which the athletic event occurred. Section 2. For the purposes of this section, "athletic contest official" means an independent contractor who serves as a referee, umpire, linesperson, timekeeper, coach, or any person who serves in a similar capacity but may be known by other titles and is duly registered as a member of a local, state, regional, or national organization which is engaged in part in providing education and training to "athletic contest officials." Note: Enactment of this bill provides and makes the assault of a sports official an offense in the third degree which is a Class D felony.

New harvest record set for modern gun season; potential for new record overall deer harvest

Kentucky deer hunters set a harvest record of 101,076 deer during the 16-day modern gun deer season that concluded Nov. 24. Kentucky is on pace to set another overall deer harvest record.

"As of Nov. 25, we are at 127,551 for our total season harvest according to telecheck, less than 4,000 from the record," said Tina Brunjes, deer and elk coordinator for the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources. "We had the second highest opening day harvest for modern gun deer season and the highest closing weekend on record."

The overall deer harvest record occurred last season, when Kentucky hunters harvested 131,395 deer. Brunjes explained that a below average harvest for the upcoming late muzzleloader season that runs from Dec. 14 through Dec. 22 would likely still put this season as the best ever for harvest.

"Given that an average late muzzleloader season is 7,000 to 8,000 deer harvested, barring an ice storm or major snow that keeps people from getting out and hunting, we should surpass the overall harvest record," she said.

A spotty mast crop that makes deer move around, favorable weather and dedicated hunters all combined to account for the excellent harvest so far this deer season.

"The data shows that more Kentucky hunters who go afield are successfully taking deer," Brunjes said. "In addition, lots of people from what I've seen are taking some nice bucks this year."

The Gallagher kids have productive hunting season

Congratulations to the Gallagher kids on a great hunting season! From left: Collin Gallagher, 11, scored a nice 9-point buck while sister Chloe Gallagher, 8, took her first deer ever! They are the son and daughter of Harlen (Christy) Gallagher and Nicole (lbn) Lee and the grandchildren of Donnie (Becky) Gallagher and Dallas (Janice) Arthur.

were made available in November after Kentuckians for the Commonwealth, a grassroots citizens' organization, had filed an open records request. The emails showed that on August 8, Jeff Auchter, the park manager at Kincaid Lake State Park, sent an email to Sam Devine, the current regional director of Kentucky Department of Parks, concerning Bluegrass Pipeline survey crews in the park surveying.

Auchter told Devine that he had not been contacted about any survey work in the park and he wanted to see if the Department of Parks had been contacted concerning the project. He told Devine that he had noticed stakes on the entrance road and voiced a desire to remove the survey stakes because they were placed very close to the entrance road. Auchter asked Devine if there was an easement that allowed Bluegrass Pipeline to be on park property.

According to Auchter, the park ranger had spoken to the survey crew because of their vehicle being parked next to the cart path on hole #2 of the golf course. The surveyors had told the ranger they were surveying for the Bluegrass Pipeline and had given him a telephone number to call.

In response to the email from Jeff Auchter to Sam Devine several emails were exchanged between the legal and finance facilities offices in Frankfort that same date. Later in the day, Park Manager Auchter received an email from Leigh Powers, an attorney with the Tourism, Arts and Heritage Cabinet (TAH), advising that to the best of their knowledge, no one at the Central Office or TAH had been con-

CheerCats claim 10th Region Coed Championship

Last year, the CheerCats claimed the 10th Region Small Squad Championship on their way to a third place finish in the KHSAA State Cheer Competition.

This year, they have half of that equation solved as they claimed the 10th Region Coed Championship at Nicholas County High School and are looking forward to the KHSAA State Competition on Saturday, Dec. 14 at the Kentucky Horse Park. They are scheduled to take the mat for their competition routine at 8 p.m.

After a third place finish at the UCA state event that had the best cheer squads in the state, the CheerCats showed they have the mettle and skill to compete with the best program in the state.

An impressive showing for a squad with no seniors or juniors and six sophomores and ten freshmen. With a roster that young but also this successful, even more regional championships and runs at the state title is in the CheerCats future.

Next year's home garden starts now

You may be delighted to put gardening behind you for the season, but fall is the time to manage and prevent disease in next year's garden. Summer crops may still be standing, even after being killed by heavy frosts and cold temperatures. At this time, you can take preemptive measures to help ensure a successful and bountiful garden next season.

Cleaning things up in the fall can help cut back on disease in the following harvest season. Many pathogens responsible for diseases commonly seen in home gardens can overwinter or survive between crops on equipment and plant residue. Here are tips to prevent the spread of disease and be ready for the next growing season:

- Remove old plant debris and trash from the garden or greenhouse and burn or bury it. Thoroughly clean tools and equipment and sanitize with disinfectant. (This is also a good time to oil shovels and other blades to prevent rust.)

Turn dead plant matter under as soon as you are finished with the garden. Several plant pathogens can survive in these residues during the winter, and they can threaten next year's crops. Plowing them under now allows more time for plant matter to break down and the pathogens to die.

Rotation is another powerful tool that should be implemented to prevent disease. Rotation slows the buildup of pathogens in the vegetable garden, preventing problems in the long run. For best results, avoid planting the same or closely related crop species in the same place more than once every three years.

Even though spring is months away, start thinking about what you'll grow and where it will go in the garden. Making notes of variety, placement and yield from the past season while it is fresh in your mind is especially useful, since it is easy to forget the details over the long winter months.

Also start mulling over the varieties you are likely to plant. Resistant varieties can significantly reduce or eliminate damage from disease and can allow a gardener to lower (or possibly eliminate) use of fungicide for a particular crop. Do keep in mind that resistant varieties do not eliminate disease. Consult your seed supplier or catalog for more information.

A garden does take planning and careful consideration, but successful disease management begins with the few simple steps outlined above. If you start now, you'll have built a strong foundation for a successful disease management program in your home garden.

Bring holiday cheer to the elderly

The holidays are supposed to be a time of joy, but for some older adults, especially those living alone or in long-term care, holidays can be met with stress, confusion and feelings of sadness and loneliness, often intensified because holidays can be further reminders of the loss of loved ones, health and even independence. During this time of year, older adults can become isolated from their friends, family and community, leading to an increased risk of depression. There are several ways to make the holidays brighter and more tolerable, however.

One of the greatest gifts you can give an older adult is your time. Make it a point to talk with the older adults in your family, neighborhood and those living in long-term care. Listen to their stories, learn from them and try to put yourself in their shoes.

Include older relatives and friends in as much of your family's holiday celebration as possible. This may include taking the holiday celebration to them. Remind older adults why and how they are important to you and your entire family.

Invite your elderly neighbor over for some of your holiday celebrations, especially if they would otherwise spend the holidays alone.

Holiday cards can mean a lot to older adults, and with loss, it is not uncommon for cards to diminish in number with every passing year. For some older adults, mail is the only communication they receive from friends and family. Make an effort to send a card with an upbeat greeting and update about your life and family. Cards filled with bad news, such as updates on those who died or fell ill, can be upsetting and stressful. If an older adult needs help reading or writing a card, take time to sit with them.

Help older adults decorate for the holidays. Offer to help them hang lights, carry boxes and prepare the house. If they are in an assisted living facility or nursing home, make the holidays brighter by bringing favorite or meaningful decorations. If the person uses a wheelchair, or is confined to a bed, place the decorations in places that will be most visible to accommodate their needs.

Encourage older adults to attend holiday celebrations and events. Social activities and events to look forward to can be meaningful and can contribute to feelings of belonging and well-being. If an older adult typically throws his or her own party, you can help plan and carry out the event if need be. You may decide to throw a holiday party in honor of a special loved one just to let them know how much they mean to you and others. This can be an uplifting celebration and help keep the older adult connected with their friends and community.

Exercise for the non-athlete

The winter months bring fewer hours of daylight, colder temperatures and more wet weather. Couch potato syndrome is on the rise which means getting the proper amount of physical activity may require creative thinking, especially for children not involved in school sports programs.

Children should engage in at least one hour of physical activity every day. This does not have to happen all at one time. Just 10 minutes of physical activity can result in health benefits.

Three types of exercise: aerobic activity, muscle strengthening and bone strengthening are important for health in growing children. Physical activity can be a combination of any of these three.

The greatest part of the exercise hour should be spent doing aerobic activities which involve moving lots of muscles at one time. Running, brisk walking, biking and swimming all are good choices to get the heart rate up and the body moving. Muscle strengthening activities include exercises such as pushups and sit ups. Bone strengthening exercises focus on putting a little pressure on bones and may include stair climbing or lifting and carrying.

A good goal for children is to participate in these activities at least three days a week. Even when the weather outside is frightful, children can still get the physical activity they need. Using things found in and around the home can provide opportunities for family fun and exercise.

Here are some indoor activity ideas along with the appropriate age for participants:

- Stair climber - Ages: 6 and up. All you need is a set of stairs and a stop watch.

Take turns to see how fast you can get up the stairs and back down. Challenge family members to beat the fastest time.

- Pushup challenge - Ages: 5 and up. See who will be the pushup champion of the week. Challenge one another to see who can do the most pushups in one minute from week to week and you will be amazed at the increase of strength in the whole family. This also works with sit ups or crunches.

- Chinese jump rope - Ages: 6 and up. Using basic materials this game is fun for everyone. Tie a rope around the legs of two chairs set approximately 4 feet apart. Take turns jumping into and out of the ropes between the chairs. After everyone has a turn, raise the rope up a little bit. Start with easy combinations such as jumping in and out of the ropes, and then let everyone make up a different pattern. Some examples: two feet jump in, one foot jumps out, two feet jump in, both feet jump out on either side of the rope.

A good exercise program is not only important for the physical health of growing children, but it also can be a positive motivator that boosts our moods and energy levels during a traditionally less active time of year.

For more information about exercise for the non-athlete this winter, contact the Pendleton County Cooperative Extension Service.

The Amish Cook serves up a delicious cabbage soup

The Amish Cook
By Lovina Eicher

We had a few days of sunshine this week. The girls took advantage of it and raked up the rest of the leaves in our yard. We still have some here and there but the most part of them are picked up. What a relief before the weather gets too much cooler!

Daughter Elizabeth is off all week from the factory and the school-age children will only have a three day school week. I bought two turkeys for our Thanksgiving dinner. Both were around 20-pounds. I have only one oven so hopefully I can figure out a way to cook both at the same time.

It seems like after Thanksgiving

Day is over Christmas seems really close already. Every year just seems to go faster than the one before. Every year we are all another year older. Our third oldest child, Verena, will be 16 in a few weeks. I cannot believe she is that old already. Next year daughter Elizabeth will leave her teenage years. Daughter Susan will turn 18 in January. Son Benjamin is in his last year of school and daughter Loretta has only one more after this one.

I treasure evenings when we all gather around our table to eat supper. Everyone shares about how their days went. Making memories! The girls enjoy singing as they wash the supper dishes. It makes you want to stay right in this stage of life. We know it won't always be like this but trust the Lord will guide us through the years. Time does not stand still for anyone.

I probably baked my first and last gooseberry pie. It was not a hit with Joe and the children. I wasn't too fond of the gooseberry taste but am glad I got to try it.

Today is laundry day. It looks like we will have to hang it in the basement. Looks like rain.

We had a storm go through Sunday afternoon while we were at Jacob and Emma's house after church services. The tornado sirens in the nearby town went off. On Monday, this area was without electricity so the public school was closed for the day. The children were excited to have a day off. Everything looked dark outside Monday morning with all the neighbor's yard lights out. How thankful we are when a bad storm passes through and not much damage. Other areas were not quite so fortunate. May God be with them and His blessings to all and everyone hope you had a wonderful and blessed Thanksgiving Day.

This is a great soup for a cold winter's day after all the turkey leftovers are gone!

INGREDIENTS:

- A couple meaty beef bones
- 1 small head cabbage (chopped)
- 4 big carrots (chopped)
- 12 stalks celery
- 2 onions (chopped)
- 4 - 6 potatoes (chopped)
- 2 quarts tomato chunks

DIRECTIONS:

Cook until all is tender. Instead of using beef bones, chunks of beef can also be used.

Comer seeks clarification of federal hemp position

Kentucky farmers should be permitted to grow industrial hemp under existing federal and state law, Agriculture Commissioner James Comer and other Kentucky leaders wrote in a letter to the U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration seeking clarification of the agency's position on industrial hemp.

"The federal government has said it will respect state laws regarding marijuana cultivation and sales, so we feel that hemp should be treated the same way," Commissioner Comer said. "Farmers and processors need to be assured that they won't be harassed by the DEA if they grow and process hemp, and that's the purpose of this letter."

Commissioner Comer was joined by U.S. Sen. Rand Paul; U.S. Reps. John Yarmuth and Thomas Massie; and Brian Furnish, chairman of the Kentucky Industrial Hemp Commission, in asking the DEA to clarify that hemp production and processing are legal in states such as Kentucky that have legalized hemp and enacted a framework for licensing and regulating hemp production. The letter was mailed to Washington on Tuesday.

"There is solid standing for Kentucky to move forward with the reintroduction of industrial hemp," said Sen. Rand Paul. "It is time for the Department of Justice to recognize this and allow production to move forward. Thanks to the regulatory framework set up by Senate Bill 50, we are in a position to make industrial hemp production in Kentucky a reality again."

Senate Bill 50 is legislation passed in the 2013 Kentucky General Assembly that creates a regulatory framework for hemp production and declares that hemp is outside the scope of the state's Controlled Substances Act.

"The production of industrial hemp will strengthen Kentucky's economy and help our farmers and businesses expand and thrive," Rep. Yarmuth said. "I am happy to join my fellow Kentuckians in asking the DEA to take a common-sense approach to hemp production in our Commonwealth."

"In light of the recent U.S. Department of Justice guidance and passage of Senate Bill 50 in the Kentucky legislature, I am proud to stand with Commissioner Comer, Senator Paul, and Congressman Yarmuth to lead Kentucky's charge to once again allow farmers to grow industrial hemp," Rep. Massie said. "To further support Commissioner Comer's efforts to provide more jobs and opportunities for Kentucky's farmers, manufacturers, and consumers, I will also continue to seek passage of HR 525, the Industrial Hemp Farming Act, which now has 49 cosponsors in the U.S. House of Representatives."

The letter to DEA Administrator Michele M. Leonhart declares Kentucky's intention to move forward with industrial hemp production. "It would defy common sense to allow states to move forward with marijuana activity in states where marijuana is legal, but ignore states that have passed laws allowing for the production of industrial hemp," the letter states.

"Simply put, it is our position that neither federal nor state law, nor current U.S. Department of Justice guidance, prohibits the production of industrial hemp in Kentucky," the letter states.

Kentucky

And the winner by a nose, Kentucky newspapers!

Everybody knows that horse racing and Kentucky go together like peanut butter and jelly. Since 1875, the "Run for the Roses" has been an American tradition. On average, 150,000 people attend the festivities each May and another 1.43 million Kentuckians watch on TV. That's quite an audience! But did you know, the number of Kentuckians who read a newspaper this week beats the derby audience by a nose. Yep, 1.58 million adults read a Kentucky newspaper in print or online in the past week.

If you're a Kentucky newspaper reader, you're leading the pack! And if you're a Kentucky advertiser, remember that our state's newspapers bring it big down the stretch.

The Child's Place Learning Center

is owned and operated by Bob and Donna Bathalter. Bob has a law firm in Alexandria. Donna is a retired teacher with 29 years of experience. They both have their Masters in Education. They are joined by Beverly Wright, Jamie Thomas and Leisha Adkins.

PHILOSOPHY WE BELIEVE:

1. Each child learns in different ways at a different pace, by different approaches and at different ages of maturation.
2. A positive self-concept develops in children who can fulfill their goals, accomplish tasks on their own, and cooperate with others and receive positive feelings from others.
3. Self-disciplined children can direct their efforts toward fulfillment of their goals. Children learn self-discipline through understanding, commitment, and reinforcement.
4. Self-reliance is achieved by allowing children to do as many things for themselves as they are capable of.

We at The Child's Place Learning Center believe that our program and services offer developmentally appropriate curriculum and we strive to enhance social, emotional, physical and intellectual growth in young children. Our program fosters curiosity, creativity and self-esteem by taking into account children's abilities and interests. Child initiated and teacher supported play is an essential component of our program.

Our teachers encourage children to use critical thinking and problem solving skills in their daily experiences. The classroom environment is carefully designed to reflect the children's interests and to cultivate positive self-image, independence, and interdependence.

CURRICULUM

Our curriculum provides for all areas of a child's development including physical, social, emotional, and cognitive. Curriculum planning is partially based on teacher's observations and recordings of each child's special needs, interests and developmental abilities. Classroom environments are designed for the children to learn through active exploration and interaction with adults, peers, and materials. Learning activities are concrete, real and relevant to the lives of the children.
